GOP candidate campaigns in area, says party is united

Thanks to fifth-grader Kate Stobbs, St. Elizabeth Catholic School students were taught lessons in government by a special visitor.
Peter Fitzgerald, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, stopped at the Granite City elementary school Thursday afternoon on his way to a GOP rally in Edwardsville.
Kate Stobbs had asked her mother, Sarah Daniel, if Fitzgerald could speak at the school. Daniel, who is campaigning with Fitzgerald, thought it a good idea.
After listening to a civics lesson from the candidate, students asked questions on everything from how different state government is from the federal to how the impeachment process works.

One student asked if he thought family issues were important in politics.
"I think many of the things the church teaches are important values that — not just in politics, but all aspects of life — in help us (such as) telling the truth, being honest. You see a lot of politicians who get in trouble because they're not always honest," he said.
Fitzgerald spared St. Elizabeth students any attacks on his Democratic opponent, Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun, but Edwardsville an hour later, he let loose with a full-scale barrage.

Hightower lauds Chamber

NCAA referee speaks at annual banquet here

The two qualities most integral for success are attitude and persistence, says Ed Hightower.
The superintendent of the Edwardsville School District and NCAA basketball referee spoke at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce 58th Annual Meeting, held Thursday night at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

"I believe in volunteerism," Hightower said. "(It) combines the best and most powerful values in our society."

Even though he achieved being named an official in seven consecutive Final Four championship games, Hightower said he kept retesting and improving himself.

The Chamber has been a hypothesis over its history, he said, one that's been tested over and over again, to make certain its successes were not a fluke or an accident.

"It's not what we do today, but can we do it again and again and again?" he said.
"If I could build a team of leaders, they would all have those characteristics (of attitude and persistence)," he said, and ones who make others feel good, appreciated and valued.

Three longstanding pillars of the area who exemplify the values Hightower spoke of were singled out for recognition by the Chamber.
The annual Sam Walton Business Leadership Award, presented by Wal-Mart, was awarded to Leo Wolf, owner of L. Wolf Construction Co. Inc., general contractors. Wolf, a Holocaust survivor who immigrated to Granite City in 1945, overcame personal hardship to create a multi-million dollar business. Legality of closing homes studied by state's attorney

By Paul Mackie
Staff writer

Madison County officials asked State's Attorney William Haine Wednesday to determine whether their plan to close two care homes is legal.

Members of the county Ad Hoc Committee, with about six homes backers in attendance, questioned a state board's decision to leave open the Madison County Nursing Home and the Sheltered Care Home.
"I'm not happy with what that board said. It disturbed me somewhat," County Board Chairman Rudy Papa said.

The Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board last Friday denied Madison County's application to close the Nursing Home. The county withdrew its application to close the Sheltered Care Home until a private developer could be located to provide beds for residents.

"I believe we don't need permission from (the state board) to close the homes," Papa said. "I find this to be unconstitutional."

The board asked questions about moving the residents of the homes but asked nothing about the merits of the county's applications.

A concern for both the state board and several homes supporters was what they termed "misleading" wording of the ballot proposals in March. But Monday told the state board the news media had provided information about the proposals.

An advisory proposal, or one that would have been asked point blank whether the homes should remain open, is illegal, unless 10 percent of registered voters sign a petition to place it on the ballot.

City's 66 visions include annexing land near bridge

By Scott Kelly
Staff writer

The lure of Old Route 66 falls into Granite City's next planned expansion.

GRANITE CITY Council approved authorizing Economic Development Director Dan Brown to initiate bringing at least 23 acres of valuable land into the city.

In wanting to annex the land, near Interstate 270 and Illinois 3, city officials are prepared to extend an existing tax increment financing district and abate $25,000 in taxes to the property owner.

The TIF is the same one recently extended for Lanter Co.'s expansion in the Northgate Industrial Park, which straddles both sides of Illinois 3 from Missouri Avenue to the Chain of Rocks Road.

Glenn Riechmann — owner of Riechmann Transport Inc., 3328 W. Chain of Rocks Road, and of much of the land in question — has entered a pre-annexation agreement with the city. After learning of the annexation plans, Brown said, other property owners in the area asked to be annexed into the city under the same terms as Riechmann's.

The land in line for annexation includes the trucking company, a tavern and a mobile home park.

"It gives us a corner on a major interstate," Brown said.

With the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge becoming a biking trail and walking trail, he said, city officials can see in the future a fine hotel and possibly a Route 66 museum sitting

Dusek family fights to keep murderers in prison

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

The huge oil painting hanging behind the sofa in Grover and Marge Norwood's living room in their Collinsville home depicts a peaceful scene from Dunlap Lake in Edwardsville. It was painted by the Norwoods' daughter, Brenda (Norwood) Dusek. The serenity of the painting is a stark contrast to the brutal death its artist suffered more than five years ago.

"There's never closure," Marge Norwood said of her stepdaughter's murder. "It's the first thing you think of in the morning; it's the last thing you think of at night."

Dusek, 52, who grew up in Granite City, lived in Collinsville. She died June 28, 1993, hours after being shot twice in the chest during a robbery. She was attacked by a group of teenagers in broad daylight as she walked from her job at Mercantile Bank in downtown St. Louis to her car a few blocks away.

It was the ultimate sadness for a woman who had survived more than her share of tragedy. Her biological mother had died of breast cancer when she was 3. Her husband, Gerald, died in 1981 after suffering a massive heart attack.

Speak your mind, 618/277-9520Lambert expansion plan fit for takeoff Region's success dependent on 1st class airport service

It's time, for the Lambert Field expansion plan to take flight.

EDITORIAL Adding a new runway to Lambert-St. Louis International Airport and modernizing the terminal and passenger facilities is too important to delay. The St. Louis region needs the economic benefits a healthy airport will deliver. The $2 billion project will spur millions of dollars of additional development and position St. Louis as an influential player in the aviation industry.

The need to expand Lambert Field has been talked about for 20 years. The last 10 years have consisted of a laborious process of proposal and counterproposal, with too much political intrigue added to the mix. While there can be honest differences of opinion on all sides of the airport expansion issue about what is the best plan, there is no question that an improved airport is vital to the region's future. We cannot afford to be paralyzed by indecision on the most important public works project ever undertaken in the St. Louis area. It is encouraging to see there is near unanimity on the political front in support of what is known as the W-1W expansion of Lambert Field. Local, state and federal leaders in Missouri and Illinois have presented a united front to the Federal Aviation Administration in an effort to gain approval for the expansion plan.

The benefits of a new Lambert Airport are many. The massive public project will provide thousands of new construction jobs for at least a decade. In the end, more than 6,000 permanent jobs will be created, providing a secure future for families who gain employment at the airport or surrounding businesses.

The airport will attract hundreds of businesses — hotels, restaurants, rental car agencies, parking facilities, retail centers — whose existence can be attributed to their proximity to the airport. Think of all the business that surrounds Lambert Field currently. How viable would those businesses be without the airport serving as a magnet? And although Lambert is owned and operated by the city of St. Louis, the tax revenues and property values outside the airport are direct benefits to St. Louis County.

St. Charles County also benefits by its proximity to air transportation. The convenient commute to Lambert Field by St. Charles Countians is a benefit that often is overlooked. The easy access to air service is an asset that is touted by St. Charles development officials seeking to attract new businesses and industries.

Regardless of where you live in the St. Louis region, the benefits of a first-class airport are undeniable. Lambert Field is the most important economic engine in the region. A smooth-running engine will ensure the regional economy keeps humming along providing jobs, development and opportunity.

City officials and some residents of Bridgeton, of course, would disagree with the benefits derived from Lambert expansion. Personally, they have the most to lose, namely, about 2,000 homes and businesses. The economic health and sustained growth of Bridgeton has been the result, in large part, of its proximity to the airport. The expansion of the airport now threatens to upset the lives of those who live nearby.

The question is: Should the future of the St. Louis region be given more importance than the disruption of Bridgeton? The answer must be "yes."

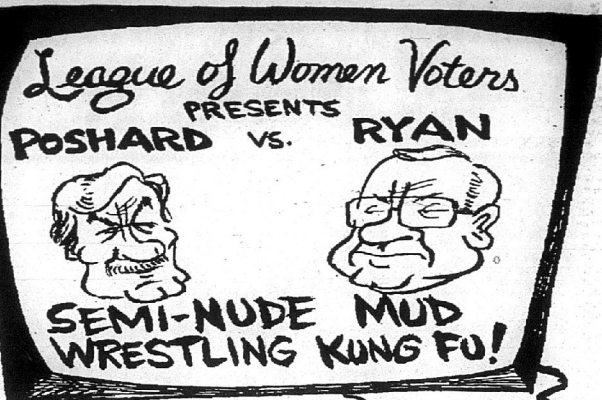

The Airport Authority has been extremely sensitive to the plight of those in the flight path. Its buyout and relocation program is generous, its intent is to provide the softest landing possible for homeowners who are forced to relocate.

There also are concerns about additional aircraft noise, especially from the new runway that they are to the existing runways. Aircraft noise, however, may be a moot point. The airlines currently are operating under federal guidelines mandating noise reduction. Those air carriers whose planes operate above preset decibel levels face stiff financial penalties.

The bottom line for St. Charles County? It'll be closer to the airport, but the planes will be quieter.

There's no question the expansion of Lambert Airport is critical to the future of St. Louis. The FAA-approved W-1W plan is a reasonable approach — and long overdue. It will meet the aviation needs of the region and will spur tremendous development in the airport's environs.

Lambert Airport expansion deserves the support of residents and public officials alike who care about the future of the St. Louis region.

Substance abuse target of health programTO THE EDITOR:
October 1998 has been designated as Child Health Month. The 1998 Child Health Month theme is Substance Abuse Prevention.

Alcohol is the "drug of choice" for today's young people, and they are starting to drink at earlier ages than ever before. Research has shown that the earlier a young person starts using alcohol, the more likely he or she is to experience serious alcohol-related health problems later in life. The American Academy of Pediatrics has found:

One out of three fourth-graders believes that drinking is a "big problem" in their age group.

About one out of seven fourth-graders already has consumed alcohol to the point of intoxication.

Four out of 10 sixth-graders say there is pressure from other students to drink alcohol.

Three million children aged 14 to 17 are problem drinkers.

Primary care pediatricians, other pediatric health professionals, teachers, parents, and the community can exert a powerful influence over future alcohol habits of pre-teenage children.

Age-specific, developmentally appropriate and culturally sensitive educational programs can help children develop healthy attitudes and prevent them from making decisions that place them at risk for alcohol use/abuse.

Child Health Month, with its substance abuse prevention theme and its focus on "Solutions before Problems," is an excellent opportunity to initiate community-based activities that reduce incidents of fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS), underage drinking, drinking and driving, and binge drinking.

protect health careTO THE EDITOR:
If the people of Illinois have any interest in seeing improvements in our failing managed-care system, then they had better support Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun's bid for re-election.

Sen. Moseley-Braun's latest victory in her battle to protect our right to basic health care was her successful sponsorship of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, which guarantees insurance portability as workers change jobs. She created this legislation because she knows how important it is that people have continuity with their health insurance.

Of equal importance to people is continuity in their health-care providers. For this reason, Sen. Moseley-Braun is now working to ensure that parents can keep the same doctor as long as they choose.

Too often, whole families are forced to change doctors because their HMO drops their chosen physician from its network.

We need Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun in the U.S. Senate to continue her progress on these crucial health-care matters.

SwanseaOfficials show their regard for the peopleTO THE EDITOR:
I wanted to share some information concerning State Sen. Evelyn Bowles, County Clerk Mark Von Nida, Sheriff Bob Churchich and Circuit Judge Andy Mateosian that may influence voters in this fall election.

Early last spring, a group of Cub Scouts and parents from Edwardsville Pack 75 had scheduled an outing to take Amtrak to Springfield, go through the capital building, see some sights and return home.

When we arrived at the Alton train station, we were advised that the train would be late. There simply would not be enough time to take the train up and do anything other than get on the return train.

We would have to cancel. That's where the local officials came into the picture. Sen. Bowles took one look at the disappointed faces of the group and got out her cellular phone. Within minutes of relating our plight, we had offers of new activities for the day.

Von Nida met us at the front of his office and let the children practice voting in a real voting booth, see their birth records and view the workings of his office.

Judge Mateosian invited the group to a courtroom to sit in a jury box. Judge David Herndon also kindly fielded questions from the Scouts for quite some time, but he is not on any ballot this fall.

Mateosian then gave each Scout a wooden pen he had made in his own workshop.

Next, Sheriff Churchich issued an invitation to see the jail. We went through the Madison County Jail's main section and saw cells and deputies in full gear.

A day which started so dully turned out to be possibly better than the train trip to Springfield would have been — all thanks to some helpful, friendly local officials.

I believe how people react to the minor problems of a small group reflects how they treat minor problems.

I urge all of you readers to vote for Sen. Bowles, County Clerk Von Nida and Sheriff Churchich. For Judge Mateosian, mark yes on his retention.

I know I am.

How convenient. President Clinton's indiscretions have now given our elected officials in Washington a way of not having to deal with the business of the people, including Social Security, Medicare, education, hospitalization, income tax reform and the general well-being of the people.

They will be so busy reading and studying Kenneth Starr's salacious report, they will have no time to deal with the problems that were sent to Washington for.

Please let your elected officials know that you expect them to take care of these problems.

Council OKs response to lawsuit

Madison files reply, countersuits in annexation case

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Editor's note: Due to a production error, the jump for this story was missing from Wednesday's Journal. The story appears here in its entirety.

The city of Madison approved filing a reply and countersuits in a lawsuit seeking to overturn a series of annexations in St. Clair County. The suit was filed Sept. 16 by St. Clair County Assistant State's Attorney David Bone.

It alleges that eight Madison annexations — including properties near the Illinois 203 and Interstate 55/70 interchange — between Feb. 13, 1995 and June 2, 1998, are illegal because the properties were not contiguous to Madison. Some of the disputed property includes overlapping annexations by Fairmont City.

At a special meeting Wednesday, the Council approved allowing City Attorney Casper Nighoosian to file a reply to the suit and to also file countersuits against St. Clair County and the village of Fairmont City.

Mayor John Hamm said St. Clair County Board Chairman John Baricevic told him the reason for the lawsuit was because the county was preparing to send out tax bills and the question of overlapping annexations must be settled.

The suit is very similar to one filed several years ago over the city of Madison's annexation of Gateway International Raceway and surrounding areas.

That suit was settled in 1996 with Madison keeping most of the properties and gaining about $310,000 in taxes that had been placed in an escrow account while the suit worked through the court system.

The big beneficiary of the lawsuit would be Fairmont City.

If successful, the lawsuit would give Fairmont City officials a clear uncontested avenue to annex the St. Louis National Stockyards and could stall further annexation by Madison. However, if Madison wins, it would block Fairmont City from further annexations.

Because of the loss of the Venture store and the eventual closing of the Millam Landfill in 10 years or less, Fairmont City is facing the possibility of losing most of its operating funds or dramatically increasing property taxes.

The landfill provides approximately 75 percent of the village's operating funds. Village officials said annexing the stockyards — which are expected to be developed as commercial/industrial property — are its best chance of survival.

The village attempted to annex approximately 700 acres of property in the spring, but backed off after legal objections by Madison and several property owners.

Meanwhile, Madison has been aggressively annexing portions of the former village of National City.

Area lawmakers draw party line for inquiry vote

By Steve Whitworth
Staff writer

The area's two congressmen split along party lines during Thursday's vote in the U.S. House to move forward with an impeachment inquiry of President Clinton.

U.S. Rep. John Shimkus, R-Collinsville, voted for the Republican-sponsored resolution to approve an open-ended impeachment inquiry, while U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Bellefonte, voted for the Democratic-sponsored attempt to limit the scope and duration of the inquiry.

The 258-176 vote for an open-ended inquiry paved the way for nationally televised impeachment hearings later this year.

Shimkus, who represents the 20th Congressional District, spoke to a reporter as the debate was being waged on the House floor.

Shimkus noted the members of the House Judiciary Committee had voted unanimously to continue the inquiry in some form. The question before the full House was whether that inquiry should be limited to matters related to Clinton's relationship with former White House intern Monica Lewinsky or whether its scope should be unrestricted.

"People are getting so caught up in the process," Shimkus said. "We're trying to clear the smoke away. This is just a vote to let the committee review the material and decide whether to call a hearing. I don't think we should be afraid of this."

Shimkus reiterated his call for Clinton to resign to spare the country the trauma of a long, drawn-out impeachment inquiry.

"I'm on record saying that the president could solve all these problems by stepping down," he said.

Costello, who represents the 12th Congressional District, said he favored the Democratic version of the impeachment inquiry, which would require it to be completed by the end of the year.

The American people want the Congress to make a judgment on the information included in the Starr Report and move forward," Costello said.

"The people of my congressional district do not want to drag this process out for months, and maybe years, with circus-like hearings held only for partisan purposes."

Also Thursday, Rick Verticchio, the Democratic nominee for Congress from the 20th District, met with reporters at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville to announce his position on the issue.

Verticchio, who lives in Gillespie and will oppose Shimkus in the Nov. 3 general election, said that after reviewing the Starr Report, he believes there is no basis for impeaching Clinton.

"Even assuming the facts presented by Kenneth Starr are true, the actions of the president do not rise to the level of high crimes and misdemeanors contained in the Constitution."

He said he was concerned that the attention being paid to the president's problems were preventing Congress from taking action on other important issues.

"Congress' obsession with the personal sex life of the president has led to an atmosphere of inactivity and ineffectiveness that is damaging to this nation," he said.

State bonds foster planning for college

By Becky Garrison
Staff writer

Gov. Jim Edgar has announced that the state will offer its 10th issue of Illinois College Savings Bonds.

At least $125 million of the bonds will be offered Oct. 19-22, for families who want to invest in their children's future education costs.

The bonds will be offered through banks and brokerage houses throughout Illinois. A spokesperson with the governor's press office said that checking with a local bank is the best place to start.

"Over the past decade, Illinois College Savings Bonds have helped Illinois families plan ahead and save for their children's college education," Edgar said.

If demand for the bonds is great, the initial $125 million offering may be increased. The bonds will include annual maturities from August 2001 to August 2020.

As zero-coupon bonds, individual college savings bonds will be offered at discounted prices, estimated to range from $1,700 for a 22-year bond to $4,500 for a three-year bond, depending on market conditions at the time of the sale. Each bond pays $5,000 at maturity.

Illinois College Savings Bonds are exempt from federal and Illinois income taxes. Up to $25,000 in bonds used for college expenses will not reduce eligibility for certain state education assistance and loan programs.

Persons who apply bond proceeds toward higher education in Illinois may receive a bonus from the Illinois Student Assistance Commission. If the proceeds are used to fund higher education expenses at an Illinois college or university, the bonds pay a bonus, ranging from approximately $90-440 per bond, depending on the bond's maturity date.

"As students across the state return to school this fall, we encourage families to take advantage of this opportunity to invest in their children's education," Edgar said.

City conducting second test on proposed Walgreens site

Initial environmental tests prove inconclusive

By Scott Kelly
Staff writer

The decade-long effort to bring a second Walgreens to Granite City hit a temporary setback when soil tests came back inconclusive. Environmental tests for petro products were necessary because the property, at Madison Avenue and 20th Street, once held a Clark gas station. "The test was somewhat inconclusive," said Dan

Brown, the city's economic development director. The test results came in Thursday.

On Friday, city engineers were at the site to initiate a second independent test on the site's ground water. The results should be in by Oct. 26, Brown said. If any product shows up in the test, financial lenders for Hurwitz Development Co. of Springfield may hesitate at the expensive prospect of cleaning the property.

Although the site had been cleaned once before, tests revealed gasoline in groundwater in nearby properties.

The developer has plans to build a 14,000-square-foot store, first proposed in 1987. Granite City had purchased adjacent property with the intent to lease it to the developer to use as a parking lot.

However, further soil tests put a snag in the plans once more when more leaking gas was discovered.

City officials want the project to finally get under way after more than a decade. The environmental question is the only thing holding up the project, which will be constructed in the existing downtown tax increment financing district.

"We're anxious to get going on (the project)," Brown said.

Beach wins appeal

Hillcrest keeps recreation spot open

By Paul Mackie
Staff writer

Swimmers will be permitted to continue to use a beach that has provided recreation for generations of people in the Lake Hillcrest subdivision in Glen Carbon.

The village's Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously sided with the Lake Hillcrest Homeowners Association Thursday night in a meeting at Village Hall. After more than two hours of debate between lawyers and residents and nearly a half-hour of deliberation by the zoning board, it was decided that the 41-year-old beach took precedence over residents who built homes near the beach in 1992.

"I just don't understand where all this turmoil is coming from," said Lyle Skaer, a resident of Lake Hillcrest. "I knew (the beach) was an inconvenience to Mr. Fields when he built his house."

Pete and Gloria Fields built their house next to the beach in Sherwood on the Lake, which is accessed through Glenwood Estates. They bought the land with the stipulation that houses in their area would follow the guidelines of the Lake Hillcrest Homeowners Association. The Fields, their attorney and engineers argued that the beach is "a public nuisance." They said it creates privacy problems, barking dogs, unsafe swimming for children and trash problems, and isn't well-maintained. They also said beach use could cause serious erosion of the dam it's built on.

Nearly 20 residents of the subdivision attended the meeting. "We really want to get along with everyone in the neighborhood. It's a shame we've come to this," said Bob Brady, who lives in Lake Hillcrest. "The reason the beach was located over near the dam was because there was access to deeper water there. It also adds value to our properties because it gives access to the beach and the water for those of us who don't have access otherwise."

Fields and his attorney began their attempt to close the beach when they realized it didn't exactly comply with the village zoning ordinance. Bob Bruegge, an Edwardsville lawyer, said the beach was not part of the subdivision's original plan.

But Lake Hillcrest's attorney, Tom Burkart of Maryville, said a beach was listed on the plat and that the beach was built seven years before the subdivision was platted. "These are fundamental rights."

He added that a decision against keeping the beach open could allow for the future restriction of boating, swimming and fishing in lakes and recreation areas throughout the village.

on the valuable commercial property.

The bridge itself is a great tourist attraction, he said, and because of the fame of Old 66, it attracts visitors from around the world.

The bridge recently closed for the last time before its rescheduled grand opening as a pedestrian/bicycle bridge next spring.

"It's a very important piece of property," Brown said. "It's something we've been seeking for a very long time."

Steroids, MS may not mix

Steroids help to reduce inflammation, but University of Illinois scientists suggest they also could be used to reverse a loss of myelin — a major problem in multiple sclerosis and other demyelinating diseases and injuries associated with the central and peripheral nervous systems.

Treatment of MS already includes the use of steroids, because they relieve inflammation and speed remission. The new findings, published in September's biochemistry section of the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, indicate that the steroids dexamethasone and progesterone actually signal the initiation and dramatically increase the rate of myelin synthesis.

"I think this work is very important in that it helps clarify the signals that are responsible for the synthesis of myelin," said Jonah Chan, a doctoral student in the department of biochemistry and neuroscience program at the U of I.

Myelin is a white substance made of fat and proteins that forms in a protective spiral sheath around the axon of nerve fibers. The sheath is a vital component of the body's efficient and rapid nerve-communication system. When myelin fails to form, nerve signaling breaks down, jeopardizing nerve communications and leading to altered sensations and a multitude of other problems.

What causes a loss of myelin — demyelination — in MS cases is not known, but is believed to be the result of an abnormal immune response to bacteria and viruses. While MS affects everyone differently, demyelination is a focal point of research around the world.

"Steroids seem to be very important in regulation the initiation and synthesis," said Michael Glaser, professor of biochemistry and assistant investigator of the project. "They had been implicated as having a role in the overall process, but not for enhancing the actual synthesis."

"It is our hope that this line of work will lead to a line of treatment for nerve injuries and demyelinating diseases." Last year in the "Journal of Neuroscience Research," Glaser's team reported the first technique for observing the continual synthesis of myelin by Schwann cells around axons of neurons.

In their new work, researchers added various forms of steroids and antagonists, observing their effects on the cells under a fluorescence digital-imaging microscope. When dexamethasone and progesterone were added individually, to the tissue culture cells, the initiation of myelin production began 24 hours earlier than it did under control conditions, and the peak rate of myelin formation increased by more than two-fold.

Their findings provided the first live look at the signal initiating myelin formation in live cells, Glaser said. Before his new assay was developed, researchers were restricted to simply observing myelin at a single stage of production.

The PNAS paper was written by Chan, Glaser and Lorie Phillips II, a Howard Hughes Medical Institute predoctoral fellow. The research is supported by the MSS.

"Why We'd Never Buy Our Jewelry Anywhere Except Keck Jewelers"

If you love fine jewelry as much as we do, then you owe it to yourself to visit Keck Jewelers at 10450 Lincoln Trail in Fairview Heights. (They're one mile west of St. Clair Square on Highway 50.)

Are we ever glad we found Dennis Keck. It's so hard to know who to trust these days. Dennis and his hardworking, knowledgeable staff have become "our friends in the jewelry business." Not that we're "special" — we've heard that all people who shop at Keck Jewelers get the same great treatment.

Look, there are lots of places you can go to buy a gemstone or fine jewelry piece — or to get something repaired. Everybody tells you they're the greatest, the cheapest, or whatever... Well, we've found that the best selection and the best jewelry values can be found at Keck Jewelers. Whether you need to buy a 2-carat engagement ring, or just get a watch battery replaced, you'll be delighted by Keck's great prices and terrific service.

Oh, by the way, we're not getting paid or anything for writing this. When we find something great, we just want to share it with our friends and neighbors. So please do yourself a big favor and visit Keck Jewelers or call them at 398-5101.

Training Center at Belleville Area College.

"I'm kind of making a living here — I'm trying to," Wolf said jokingly when accepting his award.

The Chamber's prestigious Citizen's Achievement Award, given in recognition of significant contributions to the community across all levels and a distinguished personal career while serving others, was awarded to two longtime friends.

Don Adams and Jack Dempsey shared the honor this year. The two men brought their auto glass and commercial and industrial fencing business to the top today. Their Dempsey and Adams Co. now includes Granite City Glass and Granite City Fence and Granite City Dempsey-Adams Auto Body.

"Jack and I are never at a loss for words, but this is a surprise," Adams said. "I truly, truly love Granite City and am sure Jack feels this way."

The Chamber also recognized those companies and firms who have been members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce for more than 40 years, including the Granite City Press-Record.

The new officers were also installed. Retiring President Bob Maxwell officially stepped down Thursday, after spotlighting several of the past year's business highlights, including the new Midwest Metal Coatings LLC.

The new officers are Steve Signall, president; Glenn O'Bryan, vice president; Robin Thomas, 2nd vice president; and Jack Grieves, treasurer.

Fall Bulbs by the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Tulips, daffodils, crocus, snowdrops, etc., all promise a truly magnificent spring. Small drifts popping up around the fence posts, and a cluster or two peeking through the snow is a sure sign spring is on the way.

If you'd like to enjoy all this next spring, it's running out. And right now is the perfect time to plant bulbs or anything else for that matter. You can plant right up until the ground freezes.

bulbs, pointed end up, in the bottom of the hole and cover with soil. Water thoroughly.

If you have a large number of bulbs to plant, there's another way to do it. Remove an entire layer of soil to the correct planting depth, position the bulbs, then replace the soil. Water thoroughly.

One of the most important steps in planting comes after the plants are in the ground, and that is mulching. Mulch prevents

All bulbs prefer well-drained soil. Most varieties like full sun, but many thrive in woodlands and other areas with partial shade. Spread a 2- to 3-inch layer of an organic material, such as peat or compost, over the soil, along with a high-phosphorus fertilizer. Till the soil to a depth of 12 inches, thoroughly mixing the soil and additives.

You can set the bulbs in a particular arrangement, or for a more natural look, toss them into the planting area and plant 'em where they land. To create a much more eye-catching display of color, plant bulbs in clumps instead of in straight rows. Plant them in groups of five to nine and you'll be quite happy with the results come spring.

Refer to the chart to determine depth of the holes. Firmly place the weeds from getting established and it keeps moisture in the soil so you don't have to water as often. Plus, mulching will add the perfect finishing touch.

Accept God's amazing grace

John Newton was a slave trader who almost lost his soul in the search for power, money and pleasure.

An expert seaman, he became captain of his own slave ship at age 23. His life was abominably wicked and vile.

One night, during a raging storm at sea, Newton feared for his life. When all seemed to be over for him and his crew, he cried out to God for help. Miraculously, the storm was stilled and his life was spared.

From that point on, Newton renounced slavery, left the sea and spent the next 16 years preparing for the ministry. God's grace came into his heart and his life changed completely.

Thereafter, because of this transformation, while he was a pastor of a parish in Olney, England, Newton wrote his tribute to the loving God who had saved him. The song he wrote was "Amazing Grace."

"Amazing Grace/How sweet the sound/That saved a wretch like me/I once was lost/But now I'm found/Was blind but now I see." This lovely hymn touches the spirit of millions throughout the world and has a special anointing upon it.

Since Newton's moment of grace during the life-threatening storm, he was able to see the light of God's love, kindness and compassion transforming one of the worst examples of humanity, his own self.

In the presence of God, we too can find this incredible joy, love, peace and amazing grace. "You have made known to me the paths of life. You will fill me with joy in Your presence." Acts 2:28 flowers, in the laughter of children at play and in the stillness of the night as one tiny star lights the way. Look for Him in all creation, but mostly see Him deep within your own surrendered and humble heart.

A New You

I can not express in words the wonderful, satisfying joy that comes from loving the Lord. When I'm a bit down, His words fill my heart with peace. When I need comfort His promises give me soul inspiration. And when I'm helpless His Word gives me strength.

"The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my strength, in whom I will trust." Psalm 18:2

Line yourself up with His word. Sometimes we all get so busy with careers, families, chores and so on, we forget Him and God seems to say, "I love you, I miss you, I talk to me, pray to me, remember me."

Instantly, when we include Him in our daily lives, a happiness washes over our entire being and we walk about the cares of the world.

Whether we are in the heights of happiness or the depths of despair, God is forever there. We must go to Him.

Do you ever wonder why you are passing through these special trials? There is a reason for each heartache, though we can not see it now. Wait a little longer and you will share with others God's antidote applied and know why you were afflicted.

Maybe we must go through these trying times so that we can be a comfort to others. "I know how you feel, I can help you," can be like waves of healing truth to the recipients ears.

Remember, God is no respecter of persons; what He has done for others He will do for you if you call on Him with the sincerity that they had. He will deliver you also.

As with the author of "Amazing Grace," God can change your life. Nothing can separate us from the love of God, and if that love is preeminent in any relationship you'll always be together.

Let His divine love be the motivation for your every thought, attitude and action, and you will find it's a wonderful new life.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT Pursuant to law public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted to the Electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 3, 1998. (Proposed changes in the existing constitutional provisions are indicated by underscoring new matter and by striking all matter to be deleted.)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 15 OF ARTICLE VI THE JUDICIARY

SECTION 15. RETIREMENT - DISCIPLINE

(a) The General Assembly may provide by law for the retirement of Judges and Associate Judges at a prescribed age. Any retired Judge or Associate Judge, with this subject consent, may be elected by the Supreme Court to judicial service for which he or she shall receive the applicable compensation in lieu of retirement benefits. A retired Associate Judge may be assigned only to the Associate Judges.

(b) A Judicial Inquiry Board is created. The Supreme Court shall select two Circuit Judges as members and the Governor shall appoint four persons who are not lawyers and three lawyers as members of the Board. No more than two of the lawyers and two of the non-lawyers appointed by the Governor shall be members of the same political party. The term of Board members shall be four years. A vacancy on the Board shall be filled for a full term in the manner the original appointment was made. No member may serve on the Board more than eight years.

(c) The Board shall be convened permanently, with authority to conduct investigations, receive or initiate complaints concerning a Judge or Associate Judge, and file complaints with the courts commission. The Board shall not file a complaint unless five members believe that a reasonable basis exists (1) to charge the Judge or Associate Judge with willful misconduct in office, persistent failure to perform his duties, or other conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice or that brings the judicial office into disrepute, or (2) to charge that the Judge or Associate Judge is physically or mentally unable to perform his duties. All proceedings of the Board shall be confidential except the filing of a complaint with the Courts Commission. The Board shall prosecute the complaint.

(d) The Board shall adopt rules governing its procedures. It shall have subpoena power and authority to appoint and direct its staff. Members of the Board who are not judges shall receive per diem compensation and necessary expenses, members who are Judges shall receive necessary expenses only. The General Assembly by law shall appropriate funds for the operation of the Board.

(e) An independent A Courts Commission is created consisting of one Supreme Court Judge selected by that Court as a member and one as an alternate, who shall be the chairman two Appellate Court Judges selected by that Court as members and three as alternates, and two Circuit Judges selected by the Supreme Court as members and three as alternates, and two citizens selected by the Governor as members and two as alternates. Members and alternates who are Appellate Court Judges must each be from a different judicial district. Members and alternates who are Circuit Judges must each be from a different judicial district. Members and alternates of the Commission shall not be members of the Judicial Inquiry Board. The members of the Commission shall select a chairperson to serve a two-year term.

The Commission shall be convened permanently to hear complaints filed by the Judicial Inquiry Board. The Commission shall have authority after notice and public hearing: (1) to remove from office, suspend without pay, censure or reprimand a Judge or Associate Judge for willful misconduct in office, persistent failure to perform his or her duties, or other conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice or that brings the judicial office into disrepute, or (2) to suspend, with or without pay, or retire a Judge or Associate Judge who is physically or mentally unable to perform his or her duties.

(f) The concurrence of four members of the Commission shall be necessary for a decision. The decision of the Commission shall be final.

(g) The Commission shall adopt comprehensive rules to ensure that governing its procedures are fair and appropriate. These rules and any amendments shall be public and filed with the Secretary of State at least 30 days before becoming effective.

(h) A member of the Commission shall disqualify himself or herself, or the other members of the Commission shall disqualify a member, with respect to any proceeding in which disqualification or refusal would be required of a Judge under rules of the Supreme Court, under rules of the Commission, or by law.

If a Supreme Court Judge is the subject of a proceeding, then there shall be no Supreme Court Judge sitting as a member of the Commission with respect to that proceeding. Instead, an alternate Appellate Court Judge not from the same judicial district as the subject Supreme Court Judge shall replace the subject Supreme Court Judge. If a member who is an Appellate Court Judge is the subject of a proceeding, then an alternate Appellate Court Judge shall replace the subject Appellate Court Judge. If an Appellate Court Judge who is not a member of the subject of a proceeding and an Appellate Court Judge from the same judicial district is a member, then an alternate Appellate Court Judge shall replace that member.

If a member who is a Circuit Judge is the subject of a proceeding, then an alternate Circuit Judge shall replace the subject Circuit Judge. If a Circuit Judge who is not a member of the subject of a proceeding and a Circuit Judge from the same judicial district is a member, then an alternate Circuit Judge shall replace that member.

If a member of the Commission is disqualified under this Section with respect to any proceeding, that member shall be replaced by an alternate on a rotating basis in a manner provided by rule of the Commission. The alternate shall act as member of the Commission with respect to that proceeding only.

(i) The Commission and shall have power to issue subpoenas.

(j) Members and alternates of the Commission who are not judges shall receive per diem compensation and necessary expenses, members and alternates who are judges shall receive necessary expenses only. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the expenses and compensation of the Commission.

Local medical center offers help for those committing self-mutilation

Slicing a finger on a piece of paper or suffering an errant razor gouge while shaving causes enough pain for most of us that we don't want it to happen again.

Yet for some, intentionally cutting themselves, also known as self-mutilation, brings a sense of release from a deep, internalized pain. Mental health professionals from St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City who treat self-injurious patients discussed the recent airing of the television program "7th Heaven," where a teen-aged girl was discovered intentionally cutting herself.

The reasons for adolescent self-mutilation vary. "Many patients use self-mutilation as a soother, somewhat like an alcoholic uses alcohol and a gambling addict retreats to gambling," Patty Morrow, outpatient program supervisor for St. Elizabeth's Behavior Health System, said.

Morrow added that self-inflicted pain is often an ability to these patients to express sadness that is otherwise stifled. Although the TV program portrayed an adolescent girl, the affliction is shared across gender lines. "Females often get more attention because of the means," Tammy Bowles said. An art therapist, Bowles helps adolescents express themselves through and other art activities. "With pre-adolescents and adolescents, body image becomes an issue. 'They're maturing faster and their ability to express themselves is stifled. They believe that, 'if I cut my hand, I can justify crying.' They actually feel relief."

Karen Boudreau, lead chemical dependency counselor at SEMC, said that self-mutilation cases don't occur in a vacuum. "Usually, something else is going on," Boudreau said. "There is a high rate connected with abuse, physical or sexual, when an adolescent turns to self-mutilation."

Treatment for these cases may include in-patient monitoring for four or five days, providing safety from themselves 24 hours a day. Patients learn alternative coping mechanisms and establish a safety contract. Out-patient treatment follows and may include attending daily therapy sessions at the medical center. Treatment of self-mutilation issues continue for at least a year.

The Behavioral Health System at St. Elizabeth Medical Center offers comprehensive in-patient and out-patient service. Call the Resources Center at 798-3888 for more information.

Dusek family fights killers' release

Dusek was left alone to raise her three children. Three years later, she waged her own battle with the cancer that had killed her mother.

Burying their only child — a devout Catholic, an artist, an active genealogist, a loving mother and a new grandmother — was enough of an ordeal for the Norwoods, but it was only the beginning.

More than a year later there was a trial for two of the suspects. The proceedings nearly were derailed when the other four, who eventually were released on lesser charges, refused to testify against their companions.

But Columbus Cole, who shot Dusek, and Michael Powell, who held her until her purse was wrestled away, were found guilty on multiple charges, including second-degree murder, robbery and armed criminal action.

Cole is serving a life sentence in a Potosi, Mo., prison while Powell is serving a 20-year sentence in Pacific, Mo.

That might have been the end of a tragic tale except the Norwoods learned that time within the justice system often differs from time on a clock.

"Life doesn't always mean life, and 20 years doesn't always mean 20 years," Norwood said.

During the summer, Norwood and Dusek's three children — Joe, Jim and Ann Dusek, all of Collinsville — circulated petitions to help keep Powell behind bars when his case was reviewed for parole. They collected more than 1,000 signatures. Those petitions, combined

"We are so grateful to everyone who helped us," Norwood said.

The family took the petitions to Pacific in August where they sat in on the parole hearing. It was another upsetting experience.

"There's no remorse," she said of the perpetrators. "They don't care."

Last week, the Norwoods learned their efforts had been successful. Powell will remain in prison, at least for the next five years.

"We'll have to do this again in two or three years to try to keep him for another five, but that may not happen," Norwood said.

"Nobody should have to go through this." A similar hearing will be held for Cole in 2006.

Norwood knows her family isn't alone. Dusek was one of more than 300 people murdered in St. Louis during 1993.

"There are too many of us," Norwood said of victims' families.

Pictures of Dusek and her family line the Norwoods' walls. Piles of family pictures are sorted carefully on a bed in a spare room.

Norwood is putting the photos into albums for each of Dusek's children and her four grandchildren, two of whom she never saw.

Norwood wants to be sure that neither Dusek's life nor her untimely death are forgotten. She also is compiling albums of clippings about the killing, the trial and letters she has written about both.

"I keep writing," Norwood said. "There's something that makes me do it. I don't want this to happen to anybody else."

Fitzgerald brings campaign to area has not been in the last 20 years.

"We are gathering, as we go toward the final days of the election, many Democrats and like-minded independents who think it's high time we end six years of scandal and controversy and unseat Carol Moseley-Braun," he said.

"Unfortunately, my opponent's scandals and controversies, her trips to Nigeria, her spending of campaign funds, the Medicaid fiasco, have obscured her voting record," he said. "The people of Illinois have no idea how she has been voting for the past six years."

The Edwardsville rally also included remarks from Steve Reel and Bill Price, candidates for the state legislature and U.S. Congress, respectively, and cries of

"Hey, hey, ho, ho, Moseley-Braun's got to go!" from the crowd of at least 50.

Fitzgerald listed many of the issues the two candidates disagree on, including tax breaks and partial-birth abortions.

"To have a senator who is the leader of the forces that fight the ban on partial-birth abortion, to have somebody who fights against parental consent, fights for taxpayer funding of abortion, those are extreme issues that will cause the voters of Illinois to unseat her — once and for all," he said.

When Moseley-Braun went to Washington in 1993, she said she wouldn't raise taxes on the middle class, but signed onto Clinton's 1993 tax increase, Fitzgerald said.

"I will give her credit for one thing, she is consistent," he said. "She's never voted for tax relief in Washington, she never did in Springfield."

THE PRESENTATION OF THIS INFORMATION IS NOTHING LESS THAN FASCINATING.

For The Last 13 years, Memorial's Had the Grip on Arthritis Care.

In 1985, the Arthritis Service of Southern Illinois was introduced at Memorial to put you in touch with professionals who can help you get a grip on your pain. For the last 13 years, this outpatient diagnostic clinic has helped many residents from Southwestern Illinois who suffer from musculoskeletal and joint problems. Convenience, personalized attention and experienced professionals have differentiated Memorial's Arthritis Service from other look-alikes which have come and gone.

The service includes:

Your visit to the Arthritis Service includes an examination by an orthopedic surgeon and an internist. It also may include examination or consultation with a physical therapist, orthopedic nurse, occupational therapist, dietitian and social worker. X-rays and lab tests may be ordered as well.

Fees are charged according to services received. Examinations are by appointment only. Physician referral is not required. For your convenience, a copy of your evaluation report will be sent to your physician.

Date: Friday, November 13, 1998

Information: For an appointment or more information, call Memorial's Physical Therapy Department at 257-5250.

Horoscope

SUNDAY, OCT. 11
The Aries moon positively aspects Mars in Leo, creating a pleasant energy between body and soul. Your attention will be caught by outgoing people. The sun, Venus and Mercury all traveling in Libra only add to the excitement. Your good mood will show, and you will want to spend time socializing. Why wait until the weekend?
ARIES (March 21-April 19).

There's no way to undo the past, but if you forgive, others will, too. Make a check list before going out. Your work could keep you up late, so good nutrition is imperative for stamina. Lively conversations keep a relationship fresh.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Your timetable is so different from a loved one's that conflict could ensue. Get the rules straight at the starting line of the race, or you'll have no idea who won. Friends will treat, and you should graciously accept.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A chain reaction in the higher ranks of business work to your favor. Flirtations become a case of too much information. Back out of something that feels wrong. Make a deposit large enough to cover possible addition errors.
CANCER (June 22-July 22). A revelation sets you on an unexpected course to major career success. You do a little more every day to make your self desirable to someone you love, though you may not real ize it! For laughs, go to lunch with a Pisces.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Stay on target with education and travel plans — they lead straight to money. Invest means prove lucrative later, but you know what they say about a "watched pot"! New love relationships start when you pick up your confidence level.
TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 11). This year, don't be afraid to play and be childish. Learning new ways to love yourself makes you more love able to others. Abundant socializing and dating in the next six weeks is eye-opening. Friendships and working relationships are interrelated to bring you big bucks in February. In March, invest in something you've always wanted!
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). A lover's mood is no reflection on you, so be calm and autonomous. A social gathering puts spice in your life. Time with a Pisces lifts your spirits. Shop around — you'll find good deals for what you didn't know you needed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). To start your day with a good feeling, contact family members who miss you. An admirer is only in hot pursuit if you decide to make a run for it. Don't criticize yourself in front of other people; you only alienate potential allies.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Be tolerant of family eccentricities — after all, what do you gain from being upset? A change in your job strategy leads to a raise. Take advantage of seminars and paid education opportunities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Professional advice is helpful but not the best answer. Be original. Waiting too long to find out if someone favors you will just make you apprehensive. Instead, take action and get it over with.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Experiment with unusual solutions to work problems. A love interest wows you with romantic gestures and wins you with tenderness. If you want to blow away the competition, seek critical input from a mentor.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Pursue artistic projects your talent is surging when you meet the right teacher. A new love interest proves that opposites attract. Organize your address book or rolodex, or you lose track of terrific people.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You shine in an interview when you relax and are comfortable. A lover finds you perfect as you are; just be your self. Powerful colleagues find you most persuasive. Business concerns distract a lover.

U of I and Champagne

Drinking incident won't damage rep of women's hoops

When it came to topics of conversation on Oct. 10 at the University of Illinois football homecoming game against Wisconsin, I wondered how fans would be able to avoid noting the champagne in Champaign.

I'm not referring to any bubbly that might have been in waiting for the football team's second Big Ten Conference victory in two seasons, but to the women's basketball program that has drawn negatives over popped corks.

According to reports that surfaced last season, women's coach Theresa Grentz admitted rewarding her players, including several under the age of 21, with champagne toasts following tournament championships in 1996 in Oregon and last Thanksgiving in Puerto Rico.

In September, Grentz admitted that she should have used better judgment regarding the alcohol, but she also said she believes her reputation and her program will survive.

"I did do that (provide alcohol), but it was for a team that had never won anything," Grentz said. "I wanted to do something special, but I really should have used better judgment. It was a congratulatory gesture; that was it. In retrospect, it would have been much simpler to write a note."

Illinois made a self-report of the incident to the NCAA, which has ruled the violations were "secondary" and plans no action.

Under Grentz, the Illini won the school's first Big Ten title in 1996-97 and has made two consecutive NCAA Sweet 16 appearances.

Meanwhile, as the women's team awaits its first season of home games at Assembly Hall instead of ancient Huff Hall, only four players return from the 15 listed in last season's media guide.

In addition to losses from graduation, the Illini will be without six players who have quit the program due to conflicts with Grentz.

Four of those had been recruited four years ago by Grentz's coaching predecessor, Kathy Lindsay, and claimed a lack of playing time.

"When there's a new person on board, there is always a transition," Grentz was quoted as saying.

No announcement has been made by the university regarding sanctions against Grentz, whose salary is reportedly more than $100,000.

Footnote

Among the Michigan State football reserves hopeful of seeing playing time Nov. 21, when Illinois visits the Spartans, is freshman tackle-center Josh Smith of O'Fallon.

Listed at 6-foot-4 and 271 pounds, Smith was at offensive tackle for a part of Michigan State's rout of Notre Dame in September. Smith, who wears No. 77, has been clocked at 4.8 seconds in the 40-yard dash.

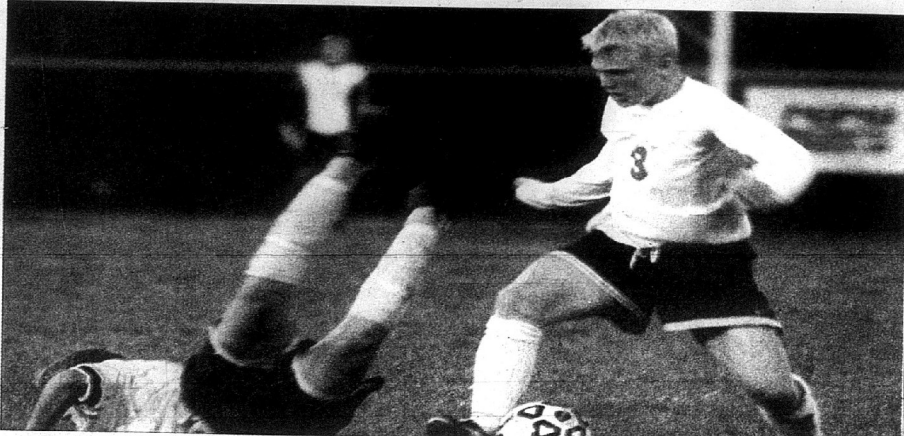

Overtime

Richard "Foz" Ryan of O'Fallon has his running shoes on again as the director of the Columbus Day 1K Kids Run on Monday, and the O'Fallon Knights of Columbus Turkey Trot on Nov. 14, both at O'Fallon Park.

Warriors lose 2-1 to Aquinas-Mercy

Granite City came up against a disciplined, characteristically physical North St. Louis soccer team Friday night and fell short, losing 2-1 to Aquinas-Mercy in the final game of round-robin play at the 18th Annual Granite City Tournament of Champions.

Aquinas got on the board with 14:32 to play in the first half.

Ryan Buckley corralled the ball along the side of the Granite City net. The defense backed off, Buckley dribbled along the goal line and sent a pass to teammate Jason Gittermeier, who was wide open in front. Gittermeier put away the easy shot and Aquinas had the lead.

"We just let them walk in, and Brandon kind of tightened up," Granite City coach Gene Baker said.

Aquinas widened the margin three minutes later. Warriors midfielder Nathan Nichols was whistled for taking down Ryan Buckley in the box. Buckley scored on the penalty kick to make it 2-0 Aquinas.

The Warriors cut the deficit in half with just under 20 minutes to play.

Mike Smith sent a long pass toward the Aquinas box. Senior Corey Winfield raced ahead and knocked the ball over the keeper, then slammed home the goal.

Granite comeback keeps West winless

Granite City scored late in the fourth quarter to beat winless Belleville West 14-10 Friday night.

PREP FOOTBALL
The visiting Maroons got on the board first. Quarterback Brandon Holton and Casey Dial led a 48-yard drive on the ground that culminated in Dial's two-yard dive into the end zone.

Jarradd Dachsteiner used a tricky "fumble-rooski" to ramble 50 yards down to the Warriors' 7-yard line. The defense kept Belleville West out of the end zone, and Rob Hamm added a 30-yard field goal to increase the lead to 10-0.

Zack May led the Warriors back. May found receiver Kevin Elliott on a 14-yard pass play and cut the lead to 10-7.

Penalties and muffed trick-plays on both sides kept the score that way until late in the fourth quarter.

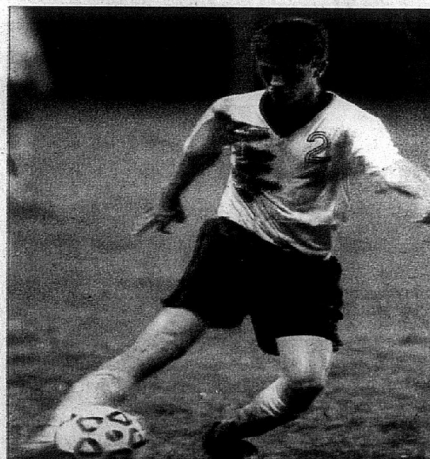

With 3:36 to play, May scored on a four-yard quarterback keeper and the Warriors took the lead.

"We played all right," May said. "I think we had some dumb plays, some bad penalties. I've gained a lot of confidence in my throwing. Coaches are giving me a lot more chances to throw the ball."

"The receivers have been making good catches on the ball. That helps me out a lot. Earlier in the season we were dropping a lot of balls."

May was nine of 16 for 131 yards passing on the night. "The key to this victory was that the kids just didn't give up," said Granite City defensive coach Ron Yates.

Granite City midfielder Corey Winfield, a senior, has been a big part of the soccer program's success at GCHS.

Winfield proves apt anchor for Warriors

Forward Dave Margrabe scores game-winning, masterpiece goals. Jarod MacMillan and the rest of backfield clear the defense. Brandon Williams snatches shots out of mid-air.

But senior midfielder Corey Winfield is the glue that keeps the Granite City soccer team together.

More often than not, the Warriors spend the majority of a game with control of the ball. Even in a 2-0 loss to St. Louis juggernaut CBC, the Warriors dictated the course of play. Coach Gene Baker

Former Granite City player coaches squad to tourney win

Jacob Sullivan scored the eventual game-winner, and Peter Christofilakos added an insurance goal — his 26th of the season — as Springfield Sacred Heart beat Duchesne 2-0 in the Granite City Tournament of Champions Wednesday.

"Overall, I think we played very well," said Sacred Heart coach and former Granite City player Sam Tate. "The field was a little narrower than we were used to, so we tried to keep the ball wide. Our fullbacks played well, cleared the ball out and took the pressure off of us.

"I thought we had a quick start," Tate said. "I was concerned about it, not just because of the two-hour bus ride, but also because we were going against the wind. We didn't have a real exciting warm-up, but I think once we got going, we got into the flow of the game. Then in the second half, we had the wind, and it was still 0-0, you could see their level rise. I think we did a good job at midfield getting it down under control and running our system. It was a good game."

Tate and his players face a 1 1/2-hour drive each way to Granite City. When the rain canceled Tuesday's matches, it saved the Griffins a trip — but it cost them a game against a tough competition.

If a game is canceled in the Tournament of Champions, the higher-seeded team takes the victory.

"It only helps that we don't have to travel three days in a row, play three tough matches in a row," Tate said. "But St. Charles West was picked as the best team in the bracket. It would have been nice to play a good team like that. So in one sense, it helps and in another, it hurts."

Christofilakos' goal came from an impossible angle, nearly along the goal line.

"It was a great finish, he had a tough angle," Tate said. "He did a nice job of getting away from the defender."

"(Duchesne) were down 1-0, and the game was getting late. They were pushing up, trying to tie the score. Most kids would hit that ball wide or into the keeper, but (Peter) slides it right inside the post. I've seen it for four years now, so it doesn't surprise me."

Christofilakos and his running mate, Danny Long, are graduating this year. That will leave a big hole in the lineup.

"You can't replace guys like that, but we have some young kids in our system who are very good players," Tate said. "We have a sophomore, Brian Sheehan, a big kid that plays outside half, that's going to go up top next year."

"You can't look back on the past. You try to handle the cards the way they are dealt to you. You just try to look forward with the new players you have."

Teams in the group besides Sacred Heart include St. Charles, Mo., St. Charles West, Mo., Duchesne, and Blue Springs, Mo.

Kickers net tie in tourney aggressively, took the ball and crossed a left footer to the far post. Forward Dave Margrave got up high in the air to head it in.

"Mac made a nice run, played a good ball, and I got open for the header," Margrave said. "I just wanted to make sure I put it on net and put it away."

Francis Howell struck back 12 minutes later. Knights midfielder Tom Becks took a shot in the box. The ball bounced off a couple of Granite City defenders and past keeper Brandon Williams to tie the score.

The Knights took the lead in the 53rd minute when forward Mark Malloy took a pass from Becks and put it past past Williams.

Typically for the Warriors, it was Margrave who got the equalizer. With 20 minutes left in the game, Granite City midfielder Ian Kessel got the ball at midfield and sent a long pass into the Francis Howell defense. Margrave raced ahead, slid and tipped the ball past the keeper for his 14th goal of the season.

"Kessel played a nice ball through, and I just slid and touched it around the keeper," Margrave said. Margrave had a chance to add another goal just after his first. Knights fullback Dave Jaromack was whistled for taking down striker Mike Smith in the box, and the Warriors were awarded a penalty kick. Margrave sent a shot hard and low to the right, but Francis Howell keeper Shawn Sargis made the save.

"I thought on the penalty kick it was an excellent save," Baker said. "Dave hit a good ball, and with the new rule (the keeper) can move, and he moved well and he got to it. So all the more credit to him because it wasn't that Dave slouched on it, he hit a nice ball."

The tie hurt the Warriors' chances in their bracket. "We played all right, but I think we could have beaten them," Granite City midfielder Corey Winfield said. "They're a good team, though. We really needed to win because Aquinas beat them 1-0. We just have to come back against Aquinas and beat them."

The Warriors faced Aquinas on Friday. "Both of (Francis Howell's) goals were weak-side goals, where we just quit on them," Baker said. "We'll work more on that, on that kind of attitude."

But Baker still saw plenty that he liked. "I thought Steve Hendrickson had his best game of the year and played really well. He hit two nice shots with his left and a nice right-footer. We're just trying to get him to go to the goal. He tackled better. He did a lot of good things."

"Bob Scott had a good second half. Dave (Margrave) plays so hard. Corey and Mike (Smith) played well, the backfield did a nice job. We need more from (Brad) Hutchings yet, and that will come. He had his chances tonight, he just didn't put them away. He'll get there. Ian (Kessel) was a plus. He made a beautiful cross on that goal, and he can do that."

"In that kind of game we have to make fewer mistakes. We had some really good chances. Andy (Runk) had a couple, Corey had a couple. Steve had a couple."

"Maybe we need to get more shots, but it's also in transition we lose concentration, and therefore, position. We get wrong-sided in transition sometimes and tonight, against a good team, it probably happened less than it has other times. I thought we had a little better effort in that regard."

"(Knights) Ryan Smith and Sean Henderson are good players. (Coach) Vince Nowak does a good job, they're always a good team. They play real aggressive, but not dirty."

Winfield anchors Warrior squad

preaches one-shot clears, and Winfield is the presence in the middle of the field who collects the ball, settles his team and leads the attack.

"He's got a 4.0 grade-point average, excellent ACT scores," Baker said. "He's got good speed, which shows in the games. He has been our leader through the year, the catalyst of our success. He's the ball for us. He's had a very successful year."

"His peers at other schools, on this side of the river, expected him to be average, and he's a lot better than that. He's pretty darn good. He's a penetrator on the dribble, and I think his attitude has been very good to make this team a winner, which it has been so far."

Winfield is a product of the Granite City soccer system. He started playing in the rec leagues at Quad City when he was 4 and moved up to the Elks program when he was 8. This lifelong dedication to the sport has left him with extraordinary control of his feet and the ball.

"I just get a lot of touches on the ball in my backyard," Winfield said. "My friends and the guys on the team got out a lot over the summer and juggled and played in my yard. The more I touch it, the more I like it. I don't know whether I'm just playing around or being serious about it."

There aren't many aspects of his game that Winfield has to refine.

"I probably need some work on my left foot," he said. "And I'm working on controlling my emotions a bit more. That competitive fire that burns at Winfield's core forges the way for the rest of his team. It kept the whole squad going against Belleville West, when the Warriors were being mauled all over the turf and Coach Baker was tossed."

Winfield, mowed down like autumn wheat, stayed out there, and Granite City pulled through.

"I think I lead by talking," he said. "I try to lead by example. A lot of our game plan is beating guys on the outside and going to the goal because we're real quick, and I think (I just help) everybody play the way coach wants us to play."

"I think by now that I've been around for so long that even the guys my age will listen to me if I'm like, 'guys don't do that, that's stupid.' Most of the time the guys on the team are mature enough to handle it. And if we say something once, that will be it."

Winfield doesn't plan to give up soccer after his senior season.

"Coach is looking into a couple of schools for me," he said. "I've been looking up with it, I'll do well because he knows a lot of people. I talked to (former Warrior) Josh Hickman the other day, and he really likes (BAC) and he's doing really well. Other than that, I talk to my brother. He didn't play soccer, but he's been through school and went to college, so he'll help me out with everything."

"I've always liked Corey. I've always thought he had the potential," Baker said. "He's gotten to the point where he's doing other things. He's winning the ball on the tackle. We're trying to get him to play the ball still a little bit earlier...but I think he's made a real strong effort mentally and physically to be a contributing member to this team."

"Statistically, he's involved in our play at all times and stays on the field. He had a little bit of a card problem, all little knick-knack kind of yellows, and we've tried to get him to stay away from that. He's doing a better job of avoiding that kind of situation now."

"Now, as we head toward the end of the year, we're going to see if we can bring him up even one more notch, just like the team. It seems like we've progressed, but it's been a very gradual thing."

"But Corey has been a real cog for us, and I'm very proud of his year. He only got about a half year last season because of a broken bone in his foot. We'd be in trouble without him in the middle. "When he talks, our game gets good. When he's talking about where the ball should go and what people should do, our game gets better. We connect, and there is some linkage between our backs and the forwards."

"I'm real happy with his assists, which have been high. In the good games, he is on the board in some way."

"In terms of leadership, I think it has been a learning process for him, and he made up his mind that he could do this. This year we didn't appoint captains and let it sort itself out, and Corey has been very consistent with that. We need him to lead us every day."

Ignore record; Bearcats better than last year, coach says

By Bill Hester
Correspondent

Numbers don't always tell an accurate story about a football team.

MCKENDREE FOOTBALL

Such is the case with the 1998 McKendree College football team. The Bearcats are coming off an 8-1 season which featured an appearance in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Tournament.

McKendree entered Saturday's game with a 2-2 record. The Bearcats have losses on the road against Quincy (27-17) and St. Ambrose (27-20) and have home victories against Doane (39-9) and Urbana (31-21).

"The record is not as good but we are a much better team this year," McKendree coach Carl Poelker said. "It has all to do with the caliber of competition. We've upgraded our schedule this season."

"In a way this is like starting all over again. It's a barometer type of year and it's all part of the maturity process."

A look at the cumulative statistics through the first four games would favor a winning record for the Bearcats. They have a huge advantage in rushing yards (1,257-453), they have 18 more first downs and they have controlled the ball more than 10 minutes more per game than their opponents.

There have been no opponents which have shut down the Bearcat wing-T offense.

"We've stopped ourselves at times," Poelker said. "We need to cut down on the turnovers. We laid the ball on the ground five times against St. Ambrose."

Those mishaps were the difference as McKendree lost by just a touchdown against the nationally ranked opponent.

McKendree has averaged more than 300 yards rushing per game. The Bearcats have five players who have rushed for more than 100 yards, led by Louis Harden (Belleville East), who has 343 yards on 66 carries.

"We not only have speed in the running back position but we have depth," Poelker said. "That is important because in our offense the backs are blocking when they are not carrying the ball. We like to spread out the

"We have some good size up front and they are also pretty athletic," Poelker said.

The one thing that Poelker would like to see an improvement in offensively is in the passing game. The run is the bread-and-butter but Poelker wants more effectiveness on the play action pass. The Bearcats are averaging just over 60 yards a game in the air.

The defense was been hurt by injuries in the backfield to Jason Schneider (Rockwood Summit), Kyle Steel (Warrensburg-Latham) and Colin Adams (Ritenour).

"We are very young in the defensive backfield and that is an area you can't afford too many mistakes," Poelker said. "Our defense has played real well at times but at other times we've had major breakdowns and given up some big pass plays. Our corners are going through some growing pains but they are getting better."

Opponents have completed just 34 of 83 passes but those completions have averaged more than 20 yards per catch. Mike Garavalia (Althoff) leads the Bearcats in tackles and he has three sacks as does Ryan Thornhill (Eureka).

Senior softball

More than 600 teams (including women) from the United States and Canada competed in 22 Senior Softball World Championship (SSWC) qualifiers to win spots in the world championships, held in August and September at Aurora, Colo., and Chicago.

Teams classified as "AA" competed at Aurora and "AAA", "Major" and "Super" teams played at Chicago's Olympic and Elk Grove parks. Teams are grouped in to 50-plus, 55-plus, 60-plus, 65-plus, 70-plus, 75-plus and 80-plus age brackets.

The teams that advanced from the qualifiers numbered in the hundreds. In the 70-plus bracket alone, 35 teams advanced to the championships. Several local teams qualified to play in Chicago, where six-game schedules were established.

The Granite City Rookies (70-plus), comprised of players from St. Louis, the Metro East and western Tennessee, competed at the Major level (the only 70-plus classification) and defeated teams from Florida, Ohio and Oklahoma, finishing with a respectable 3-3 record, which unfortunately was not enough to advance to the finals.

"Stan" Serwatka (East St. Louis), Alex Schutzenhofer (Fairview Heights), "Scotty" Marlen (East Carondelet) and "Pete" Petrovich (Mascoutah) are Rookies teammates.

Granite wins SWC battle Loss eliminates Warriors from tourney

"We had some breaks go against us, shot ourselves in the foot a few times, but we hung in there, and the kids got the job done. That's the bottom line."

The gimmicks Belleville West pulled in the first half kept the Warriors off balance. "Well, it was tough," Yates said. "When you come across a team that hasn't won a ballgame yet, they don't have anything to lose. They put it all on the fire and hope something works. It's tough to come up with defenses against that, a team that plays with reckless abandon."

George Kirgen, Mike

Simpson and Anthony Randazzo made tough sticks at crucial points in the game.

"Matt Levart made a good play too," Yates said. "Tony Komoroni, Matt Laird, Jeremy Hunter, Sean Courtney, Sean Kuehnell, all of the guys played well."

"Nine out of my starting 11 on defense are seniors, and they're really starting to show their maturity and their awareness of things on the football field."

The loss kept Belleville West winless. The Maroons take their 0-7 record back home to face East St. Louis next Friday night. Granite City increased their mark to 2-5 and will host Alton next week for homecoming weekend.

One goal was all the Warriors would manage against the stubborn, controlled Aquinas squad. But Granite City had a chance to equalize in the dying moments of the game. The ball bounced around in the Aquinas box, and several of the Warriors got their feet on it, but weren't able to sneak one through traffic.

"That was mayhem," Baker said.

The win sent Aquinas into the semifinals of the tournament. They faced Springfield Sacred Heart Saturday morning for the chance to reach the tournament finals.

DeSmet and Chaminade were set to face each other in the other semifinal tilt. The face-off between two of the very best teams in St. Louis promised to be the marquee matchup of the tournament.

With the loss to Aquinas and the tie Wednesday night with Francis Howell North, Granite City's tournament record ended at 0-1-1.

"We had a good game," Warrior defender Jared MacMillian said. "We just couldn't finish and put the ball away."

"They're a good team. I think it helps us get ready for the playoffs. We'll see some tougher teams then."

The Warriors didn't show any rust from only playing one game in the past 10 days.

"I think we needed the break," MacMillian said. "We needed the time to get some practices in. We had some guys banged up."

Granite City coach Gene Baker was looking for a better showing against Aquinas.

"I don't think we came to play," he said. "In the first half we were lackluster and then some. The second half was all us. We really took it to them in the second half."

"They fouled Dave (Margrave) pretty often tonight to keep him away from the goal."

"We just can't let a good team like that get on the board. Justin Laramie is a good player. We gave him too much room to work with. They always have good players over there."

"They told me that this was might have been their best game of the season, since they played (St. Louis) CBC."

The Warriors' inconsistency from one play to the next caused them to lose momentum to excellent teams in both tournament matches.

"We show that we're a good team, but we can't be so spotty," Baker said. "The attention and focus isn't there. The games are the best teacher, and the players have to realize that and do something about it."

One of the reasons Baker started this tournament was to give his teams a chance to prepare for the playoffs. He hopes that this experience will lead to success in the postseason.

"It might," he said. "Many times we will be saying, go left, and they go right. Go to the goal. The key thing is the lack of talk on the field."

Granite City is off until Thursday, when they will travel to Belleville East in a key Southwestern Conference match.

International Folkfest returns

Event at Queeny Park Oct. 16-18 will spotlight cooking, storytelling, performances from around the world

By Mary Shapiro
Staff writer

For three days, Queeny Park will become the crossroads of the world, as music, dance, food, stories, art and crafts from around the globe entertain visitors at the 1998 International Folkfest.

The event will take place Oct. 16 through 18 at the Greensfelder Recreation Complex at the park, 550 Weidman Road in West County. It is sponsored by the International Institute of St. Louis, a nonprofit organization that assists immigrants and refugees who move to the area. The group also works to foster greater understanding of various cultures.

The Folkfest will run from 9 p.m. Oct. 16, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. (followed by the Ethnic Treasures of St. Louis fashion show from 7:30 to 9 p.m.) Oct. 17, and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Oct. 18.

More than 70 ethnic and international organizations will take part in Folkfest, said

Anna Crosslin, director of the event and president and chief executive officer of the International Institute.

The Folkfest has grown over the years to become the largest multicultural event in the region, said Suzanne Holroyd, publicity chairwoman. This year's Folkfest will take place over three days instead of two days, as in the past, she said.

Many activities will be geared especially to children and their families, Holroyd said.

Youngsters will be able to take part in hands-on arts and crafts reflecting a variety of cultures; create colorful masks and puppets; receive lessons in ethnic cooking; have their names or special messages written in one of 15 alphabets; listen to storytellers; see cooking demonstrations; and more.

Kids won't be the only ones having fun. Performers from countries throughout Europe, Africa, Asia and South America will entertain nonstop on a pair of stages throughout the festival. In addition, a Cabaret Room stage will offer individual and small-group performances of music, dance, storytelling in an intimate setting.

The Ethnic Treasures of St. Louis Fashion Show will feature exotic clothing, some of which is seldom displayed outside native countries. People also will be able to sample crab rangoon, Hungarian strudel, Nigerian jollof (rice) and lots of other foods at 21 booths operated by ethnic groups.

The Cultural Windows and Cultural Kaleidoscope areas will offer craft demonstrations, such as a potter from the Amazon region of Peru; Eritrean basket makers; American Indian bead workers; and doll makers from Japan.

People also will be able to shop at an International Bazaar, which will feature 19 booths offering handmade crafts, artwork and collectibles.

Other booths will provide information on globally-oriented organizations in the St. Louis area.

Daily admission to the Folkfest is $4 for adults, $3 for senior citizens, $2 for children ages 5 through 15, and free for children 4 and younger.

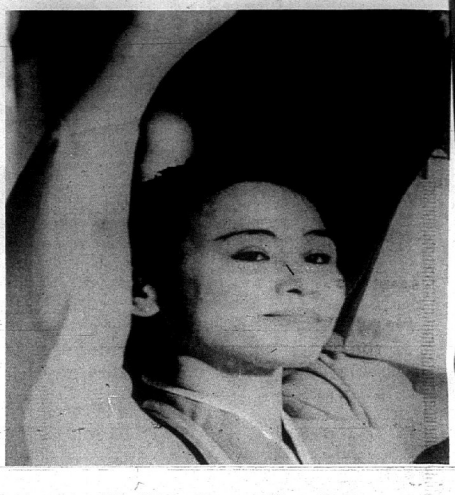

The Ethnic Treasures of St. Louis fashion show Oct. 17 will be open to all paid visitors that day, but stage-side seating is available for an additional $5.

Parking is free. For more information, call Suzanne Holroyd at 981-4641 or Anna Crosslin at 773-9090.

Information is also available on the International Institute's website at www.intlinst.org.

In addition to the International Institute, sponsoring the festival is being provided by the Missouri Arts Council; Regional Arts Commission; Southwestern Bell; Western Union Financial Services; Boeing Co.; Missouri Lottery; Emerson Electric Co.; Webster University; Willert Home Products; May Co.; Marriott West and Marriott Pavilion hotels; and Dave McGonast Automotive Family.
